SUMMARY

Lucy Sancu is an award-winning multi-disciplinary artist, director, and producer based in Hamilton, Ontario. Having spent over a decade as an actor, she is now using her skills to continue to create art through her producing and directing that promotes women and queer experiences.

Co-founder of Stubborn Little Spark Productions, a production company that focuses on telling stories that center on mental health and the queer experience through the horror genre.

As an artist, Lucy aims to contribute to the Canadian film scene, and looks forward to working with people who are just as passionate about creating homegrown work as she is.
